

The Tenacious Radical Edge:

Notes from a Life of Activism

How do the “personal” and the “political” entwine?

What does it mean
to remain a radical today in the USA?

What can be learned
by reflecting on past
eras of activism?

How can the work
of writing and memoir contribute to emancipatory
social change?

What does it take to sustain a life of activism for the long haul?

with Demita Frazier

Join us for a discussion of these and other questions with Demita Frazier, activist, scholar, thought leader, writer & educator. Free and open to the public.

Tuesday
April 27
4-5:30pm

Co-founder of the Combahee River Collective, a radical Black feminist organization active in Boston from 1975 to 1981, Demita Frazier, JD, is co-author of the Combahee River Collective Statement. A life-long activist, she remains committed to the destruction of the illusion and effects of white supremacy, misogyny, and other forms of oppression, and to the creation of a democratic socialist society informed by equity, radical compassion and committed to the realization of a sustainable, flourishing world.

Zoom link: <https://umassboston.zoom.us/j/97848210691>

Hosted and organized by Prof. Joseph G. Ramsey.
Co-Sponsors: The UMass Boston Honors College, Africana Studies, Labor Studies, English and American Studies.